

34th Interuniversity Mathematical Sciences Research Seminar (SIDIM)

March 1 and 2, 2019
University of Puerto Rico at Humacao

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Organizing Committee of the 34th Interuniversity Mathematical Sciences Research Seminar (SIDIM) to be held on March 1st and 2nd, 2019 at the University of Puerto Rico in Humacao, invites interested parties to submit abstracts for presentations, posters or mini symposium. The 2019 SIDIM will be dedicated to the memory of our colleague Dr. Francis Castro, a very prominent Puerto Rican mathematician that passed away recently, and who distinguished himself for his contributions in exponential sums and L-functions over finite fields. The three plenary talks and several parallel sessions on the afternoon of Friday March 1, will be on topics related to Francis's work and collaborations. On Saturday March 2 we will have as usual parallel sessions on different topics in Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, Statistics, Computer Science, Financial Mathematics, Mathematical Education and related areas. Abstracts will be evaluated and organized according to the following categories:

- original results being presented at the SIDIM and/or results published elsewhere recently. Please indicate whether or not your submission is for the special session on Friday.
- Novel exposition and/or applications of known research results.
- Work on curricular development and/or assessment.

How to submit abstracts: Abstracts (around 300 words in length) for presentations or posters will be received in plain text or LaTeX (preferred), or MS Word formats. These should be submitted by email to sidimcp@gmail.com. Please visit <http://sidim.uprh.edu/> for further information (templates) on preparing an abstract and registration. Abstracts of potential speakers or presenters that do not register will not be considered for presentations.

Proposals for mini-symposium: Those participants interested in organizing a mini-symposium should submit a proposal to the SIDIM Committee by no later than the due date listed below. Proposals should be submitted by email to sidimcp@gmail.com. Please visit <http://sidim.uprh.edu/> for further information on preparing a mini-symposium proposal and for registration. Abstracts of mini-symposium speakers that do not register will not be considered for presentations.

Deadlines: All abstracts and mini-symposium proposals must be submitted on or before January 18, 2019 to be evaluated for presentation.

Additional Information: Information about registration, exhibit booths, advertisements, and payments can be accessed through the SIDIM Permanent Committee website at <http://sidim.uprh.edu/>.
